Employment Law Up-Date Service

Keeping abreast of legal developments relating to employment law in Northern Ireland can be a daunting task....

New EU Directives, Acts of Parliament, Statutory Instruments and Rules are regularly announced. Case law extending the rights and duties of employers and those they engage appears to be published with increasing frequency. Text books on employment law rarely focus on the situation in Northern Ireland and fail to make clear the important differences between employment law here and in Britain - differences that will increase under the devolved powers of the NI Assembly.

Emails sent out as part of this service are written by employment lawyers and HR Professionals with many years' experience of advising and representing clients in Northern Ireland. Each email is clearly and concisely written and usually accompanied by links to supplementary material on the world wide web - ideal for the busy employment adviser and a great time saving research tool.

Many organisations, small and large, now benefit from this service. A no obligation trial is available with this brochure.
